Good Nature and Garages

DGAR A. GUEST, in the Detroit Free Press, says that "it isn't often that you find a good-natured man in a garage." He goes on to tell why it is -or tries to. He says that there is something about the work of taking care of a broken-down automobile that takes the do no wrong." joy out of life. Interest in Life

ISCUSSING THE MUCH obscussed "cure for old age," a prominent wri'r says he takes no stock in a surgical operation to restore youth "The new theory of longevity," he says, "is interest in life. As soon as a man's life loses its fascination, it only remains to buy a lot in the cemetery and order the funeral robes. The rest of the life is a stimulant to the heart."

It is well said. The trouble with too many people is that they lose interest in life. They fail to be entertained by the smaller incidents of the day. They establish a standard of excitement which must be lived up to, and which it is impossible to obtain at all times. They grow awearied of the commonplace, tired of the mine-run of things, they want everything screened, and the big lumps only dumped before their doors. And old age has taken hold of them

Then, too many people do things to "kill time". Time doesn't equire any "killing". The fellow who reads a book to pass away he hours, rather than to obtain pleasure from the reading, is lost. She who engages in a game of bridge recause of a lack of something else to do, has failed to gain anything from the zest of the contest. Anyone who doesn't find employment in work, is lost to youth. For all of the people who have lived to ripe old age, and beyond, have found interest and excitement in their work or study or the society of their friends. Old age has no terrors for the man who takes an interest in the life about him, however quiet and peaceful it may appear to others.

Real Happiness

APPINESS IS NOT determined by possessions or b. tixed con ditions. Many a man, without money and without credit to huy an automobile- without even the desire to have one- has a great love for his wife, his children and his God, and while for reasons certain and sure, he is not getting on, he is far from unhappy. We have seen a woman with a nice clean baby and a faithful and strug gling husband almost so happy that she was afraid of her happiness And it is often the case that some rich lady across the way, with a hig car and a dog, would give all she has to be as happy as the

BOSCH MAGNETOS

America's Supreme Ignition System

SUPERIORITY OF BOSCH MAGNETOS

The reliability of a magneto, as has been said, depends upon its form of construction and the material and labor put into it. The efficiency of a magneto depends upon its electrical designs. in this respect Bosch Magnetos have a world-wide reputation representing the highest type of workmanship, with the embodiment of only the best materials, formed into a design which for years has been recognized throughout the world as standard, and unequalled for its electrical efficiency.

It is for these reasons that Bosch Magnetos cost a trifle more than other magnetos. But the continuous, "no-worry" service that they render, is worth every cent of that extra cost.

Among your friends, ask the one who has operated an engine with Bosch Magneto Ignition, for his opinion of Bosch Ignition-generally the remark is, "I wouldn't have anything else; I oil it and forget it."

ANNOUNCING MODEL "S"

1920 LEXINGTON

MINUTE-MAN-SIX

It is with the greatest of pride that we announce the arrival of the 1920 Model "S" Lexington, which is the last word in Lexington achievements up to the present time. That which has been dreamed of and long been hoped for in motor car construction, can now be realized in the 1920 model "S.

Exclusive features, such as Moore multiple exhaust. Lexi-Gasifier manifold designed to take care of low grade gas, making a distinct fuel economy and producing more power than high test gas with ordinary type manifold is one of the few things that we do not want to be overlooked by the prospective buyer. A new two-way headlight, controlled by vacuum device, making night driving as safe as day is another feature that appears on the new model. ANOTHER FEATURE—which all are glad to know about is the eliminating of oil and grease cups, this is done by the use of thermoid joints and self-oiling bushings made of a special composition of bronze and graphite. Our bodies of both open and closed type are so designed as to provide the greatest degree of comfort to the occupants and carrying with them that unusual grace which is most pleasing to the eye, combining the many thorough-bred features which make the 1920 model "S" overshadow all previous successes, and we humbly solicit your scrutinizing inspection before determining what your 1920 car shall be. OFFICER DELAYED

Uncertainty as to the passing of the new Hughes health law which is supposed to go into effect January 1, 1920, delayed the appointment of a new health officer for Lima, at the regular meeting of the board of health held last night. There has been a great amount of dissention all over the state in regard to the new law, as many of the tulings are unnecessarily stringent, it is understood.
